Legislation Title: A Resolution in support of The Civics For All Initiative.

Summary of the Legislation: Declares the City Council's support of the Civics for All Initiative, which promotes civics education in Seattle Public Schools.

Background: Seattle public school instructor Web Hutchins founded the Civics for All Initiative, which seeks to make Seattle a model civics education city where a "civic culture of learning" is cultivated and democratic principles are celebrated in K-12 schools and district-wide. One of its central programs calls for city-wide mock elections, in which 50,000 students participate in and learn about our democracy's voting process. The Civics for All Initiative was featured in the April 2012 edition of Educational Leadership magazine and is supported by legislators at the County and State level as well as professors from Seattle University, the University of Washington, and Stanford University.
